IN CONGRESS, July 4. 1776.
The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,
When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another
We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator
He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.
He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance
He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records
He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly
He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected
He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states
He has obstructed the administration of justice
He has made judges dependent on his will alone
He has erected a multitude of new offices
He has kept among us in times of peace standing armies
He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power
He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution
For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us
For protecting them by a mock trial from punishment for any murders
For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world
For imposing taxes on us without our consent
For depriving us in many cases of the benefits of trial by jury
For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences
For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province
For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws
For suspending our own legislatures
He has abdicated government here
He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts
He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries
He has constrained our fellow citizens taken captive on the high seas
He has excited domestic insurrections
In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress
A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant
Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren
We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity
We must therefore acquiesce in the necessity
We hold these truths to be self-evident

The Pinnacle

Early in the school term of '42 and '43, the Senior class was informed that its long anticipated trip to the nation's capital would be cancelled because of circumstances caused by the war. However, a similar attack was introduced in the form of a yearbook. While enthusiasm was at its height, the class elected members for the Staff.

At that time, the book was merely a far-distant dream, and quite dear, but nevertheless, a goal. The Staff then set to work with absolutely no knowledge of the intricacies involved. The book was named, a layout made, and assignments given. The rest was broken.

The Staff is now quite proud of the procedure it set. From a mere dream the book has evolved into a reality. The Staff sincerely hopes that you enjoy perusing your yearbook.

Student Council

OFFICERS

President — Kenneth Bobbs

Secretary — Gene Anthony

Perhaps the most essential student organization in any High School is the Student Council. This organization is made up of representatives who are elected annually from all the homerooms in the building including the Junior High School. It is this organization which introduces, executes, and otherwise deals with school rules.

In addition to being a democratic governing body, the Student Council sponsors various activities throughout the year, such as the annual Yuletide Hop, the election of Cheerleaders, and this year, the dedication of a service flag to graduates in the armed forces of our nation.

We, the class of '43, will always remember the cheerful guidance we received from our faculty in the past four years. Since words seem inadequate to express our gratitude and appreciation, we depart, assured of all they have done for us, and keep in mind that our future depends not on how much we win, but on how much we do, how much we love, and how much we serve.

Senior Class Officers

We, the senior class of '68, are the first class to complete our junior and senior high years in this new building. During this time we went to sport activities, dances, and other functions, and in our senior year we had special activities: choosing class colors-blue and white-, choosing class flower- white rose- going on the class trip, and giving the class play. We'll miss this school which has prepared us for college, working, and just living. And we will always try to follow our motto "Less than our best is failure."

Junior Class Play

This year's Junior Class play, a three-act comedy, was entitled ASK ANY GIRL. The play depicted a husband-seeking girl just out of college, who moved to New York City. She met two men--a serious businessman and his playboy brother--one of whom she eventually married. The cast, under the direction of Mr. George Weirich, staged a very funny and well-presented play.

Sophomore Class Officers

Peter Kauffman . . . . . Vice-President
Lynn Koenig . . . . . President
Susan Anspach . . . . . Secretary
Wayne Fisher . . . . . Treasurer

The Sophomore year is a very important one as it is the stepping stone between Junior High and Senior High. The Sophomore Class sponsored their annual dance and also chose class colors. Good luck to this class in future years.

What's happening in school this week? Was last week's dance a success? Who were the seniors of the month? HIGHLIGHTS answers these and many other questions of the student body.

The HIGHLIGHTS staff is quite proud of their complete and efficient coverage of all the school news. These students, with help from advisor Mrs. Paisley, work quite hard in order to put out a good paper every two weeks.

In addition to constantly working to improve the paper, the students on the staff still find time to sponsor an annual dance and put on the "Dimpled Darlings" show. These activities, along with money from subscriptions, bring in enough money so that after the paper is printed there is enough money left for some members to attend conventions where they can learn how to improve their paper.

Farming today is no longer just working with muscle power. Today's farmers work with their minds, too. This is one of the primary reasons for the existence of the organization of the Future Farmers of America.

The club is composed of all boys studying vocational agriculture in this school. The members of the Hamburg Area Chapter are in turn members of the Berks County Chapter.

The work the boys do in connection with FFA and vocational agriculture classes helps them prepare for the many phases of agriculture. President, Glenn Davis; Vice-President, Clarence Bailey; Secretary, Stanley Dietrich; Treasurer, Robert Spatz;

"If a Man Answers" was the title of this year's senior class play held on March 29 and 30.

The play centered on a Boston bred socialite who moved to New York city with her parents. While persuing her modeling career, she fell in love with a handsome photographer. She tricked him into marriage and controlled him with a book entitled HOW TO TRAIN MAN'S BEST FRIEND. Her well laid plans got her involved in many hilarious and sometimes embarrassing situations.

The whole cast had a lot of fun with this comedy.

You earn more money than I do!

I may be shy, but I'm still human!

Hands off girls -- He's mine!

I hate to see a grown man cry.

Now for tonight's lesson.

I've handled situations like this before.

Varsity Baseball

This year's Hawk Varsity Nine sported one of the finest array of players Hamburg Area High School has ever fielded, backed by an amazingly competent bench. Baccalaureate - Commencement

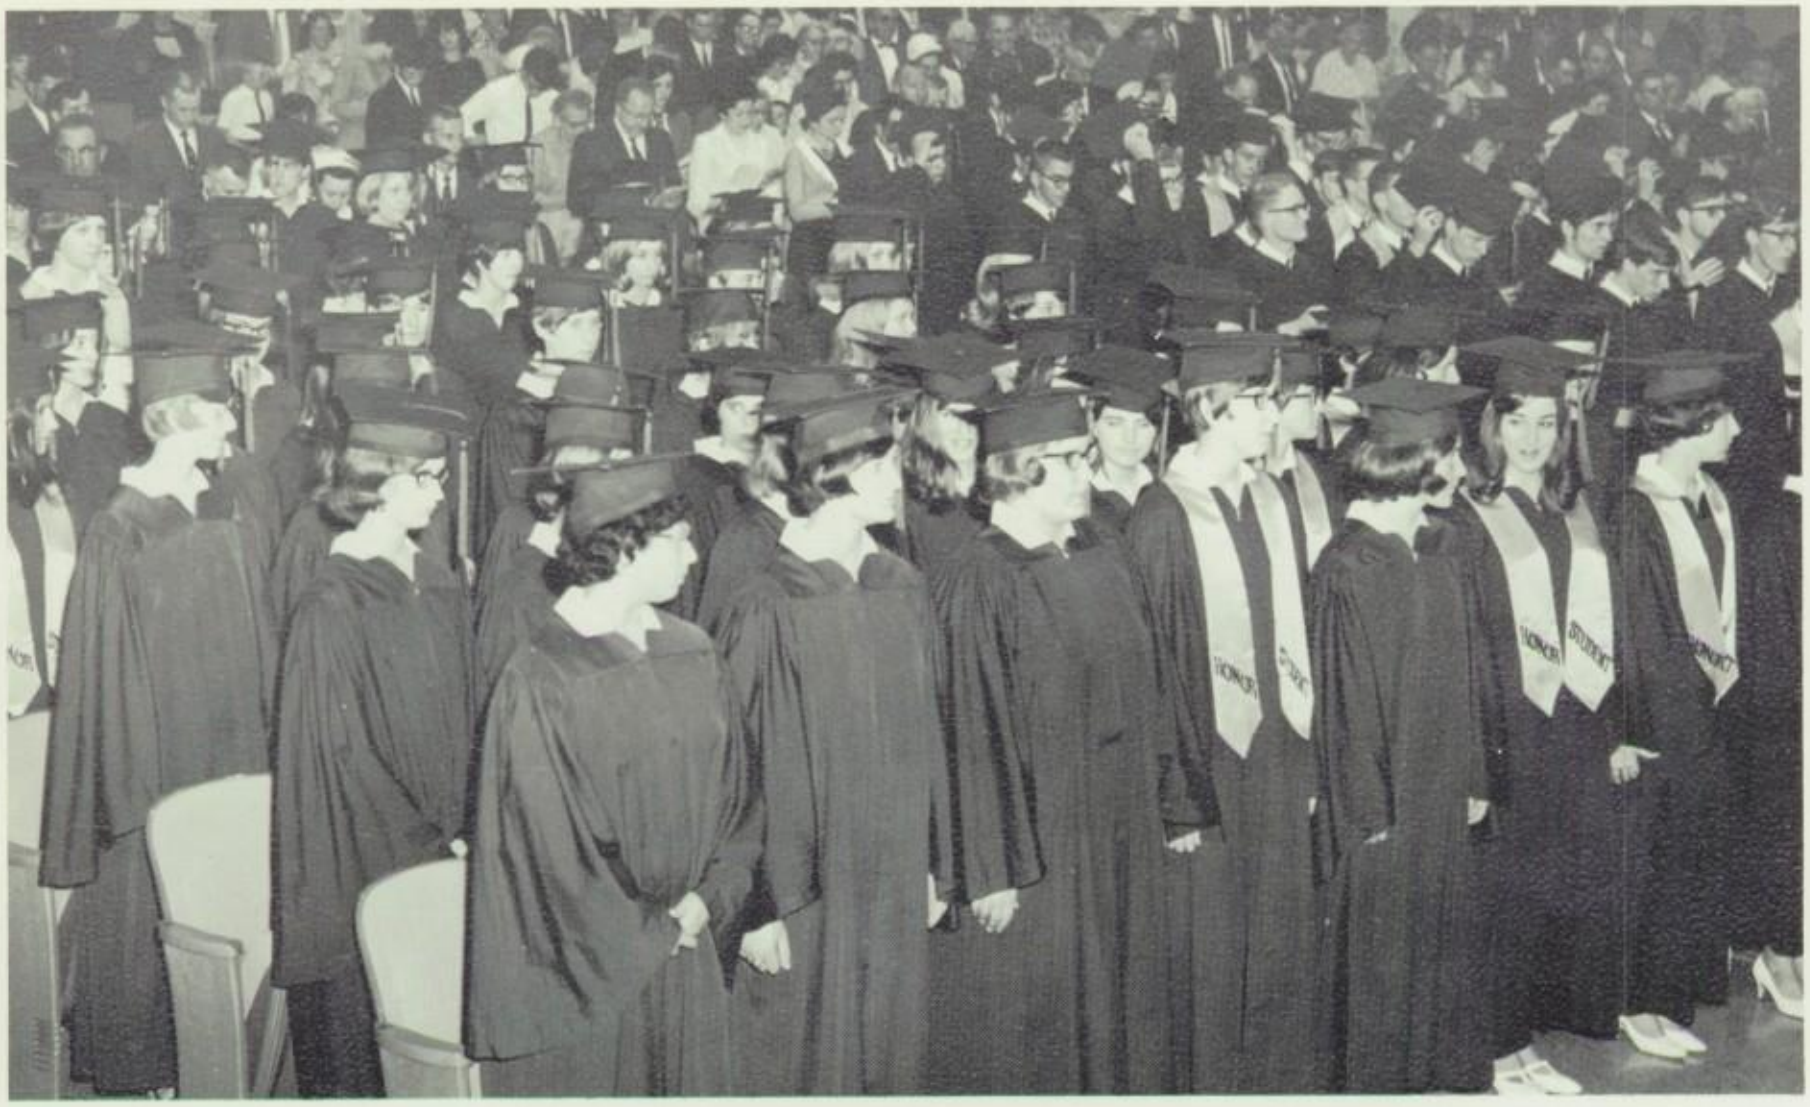
The Class of "68" attained the pinnacle of its school career on June 4, 1968--graduation. Two events commemorating graduation at Hamburg Area High School are the Baccalaureate Service and Commencement Exercises.

Baccalaureate, held on June 2, 1968, was directed by the Hamburg Ministerium. The Rev. Martin Zerkle conducted the service and Rev. Paul Fisher presented the sermon.

The invocation for the Commencement program was offered by Rev. Morris F. Houck, Jr. After speeches by the Honor students, W. Francis Swingle, an Assistant Professor of English at King's College, gave the commencement address. The class then received their prized diplomas.

These young people have now left their high school years behind, but they have entered a broader, more complex, and exciting world-their future.



Senior Events

On April 26 the seniors traveled to Washington, D. C. for their class trip. As a group the class toured the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, then the Capitol, where they witnessed a session of the Senate. After eating in the House Cafeteria the class observed the changing of the guard at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier and viewed the late President Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery. The group spent the remainder of their time in the Smithsonian Institute and trudging up the Washington Monument. Plenty of talking, laughing, walking, singing, and eating--all these made quite an exciting day in Washington, D. C. for Hamburg Area High School seniors.
